1 5. United States Patent No. 6,237,584 ("the '584 patent") is valid and enforceable
2 over the prior art and defenses raised by Global, and that it is infringed by the original Cable
3 Critter product made and sold by Global ("the infringing product"), which is the subject of the 4 January 10, 2002 preliminary injunction previously entered by the Court in this matter. The 5 original Cable Critter specifically infringes Claim 9 of the '584 patent.

6 6. Global shall destroy all original Cable Critters in its possession or control, and 7 shall send Sims the mold and tooling for production of the original Cable Critter which is the 8 subject of the infringement order or alternatively verify that it has destroyed or permanently
9 modified said mold and tooling, and Global shall send its lists of customers who purchased the 10 original Cable Critter to Sims.
11

12 7. The preliminary injunction previously entered in this matter is made permanent as 13 to the original Cable Critter. Sims agrees that the preliminary injunction specifically does not
14 include a Modified Cable Critter to the extent that it does not have at least two complimentary
15 protrusions on both surfaces (front & back) of the silencer (a "Modified Cable Critter" 16 hereunder).
17

18 8. This Court will retain jurisdiction of the case to enforce this Consent Judgment
19 and the Settlement Agreement and Mutual Release between the parties.

21 IT IS SO ORDERED.
